

Fell Engineering winter rum race series

Mark Foy Starts

This winter the Fell Engineering Rum Race series will be sailed using Mark Foy (also known as Pursuit or Handicap Start) start times where the yacht with the lowest handicap will start at 14:00 hours, followed at intervals by yachts with higher handicaps.

A list of all start times will be available from the club's start box on the day of each race once weather conditions have enabled a suitable course to be set.

See the associated pdf file entitled "Fell Engineering winter series Mark Foy race start times EXAMPLE" for a sample of the start times sheet available prior to each race. This form also contains the method used to start yachts in these races.

The first yacht home in each race will receive the rum while second and third home will receive beer.

Series results for both A and B Divisions will be calculated using the corrected times of all finishers.
